// The Company

For over 25 years, MTS Systemtechnik has been a developer and manufacturer of customised products for high-frequency, microwave technology, electronics and mechanics with world-wide agencies.

MTS Systemtechnik was founded in 1980 as MTS Mikrotechnik and changed its name in 1995.

The move to Mertingen at the beginning of 2005 into a new administration and production building gave us the space we needed to expand further, but also opened up new perspectives in the areas of development and production.

With technical expertise, special know-how and the engagement of our employees MTS Systemtechnik has been convincing customers on all continents for over 25 years.

Our philosophy: We want to be a passionate and customer-oriented partner with highest quality standards.
